Animal Care

If at any time you witness a situation where animals are not treated appropriately you should confide in the correct people. You will find a list of individuals responsible for animal care at MCC below. You should start with this list. There is a whistle-blowers law that prevents reprisals against persons who tell about animal mistreatment. You should feel at ease confiding in anyone on this list. It is the obligation of everyone here (students, faculty, and staff) to report any situation where animal care is questionable. Please feel free to contact anyone listed below.
